The plug-in's would need to be re-written, that's if the new TT Game Manager supports plug-in's. However, most of the plug-in's that have been released also include the source code, so it should be possible to do it without lots and lots of effort.