Glock~ wrote on Fri, 08 January 2010 15:14 Social networking is fucking stupid. I mean, finding old friends and talking to ones you don't see very often or live far away, but most people take it way too far. There's a lot of useless shit on Facebook/MySpace/Twitter etc.

Agreed, I just use mine for the occasional communication. It IS convenient for when they don't have AIM or something, and just keeping in touch with people in general, but I hate how everyone plays retarded games and etc on facebook, then they try and get you into it...
