The reason we haven't developed BIATCH more is because we too suspected that TT would be out sooner than this. Surely enough, it is hard to improve vAC from only the server, as BIATCH does. With TT we've taken away fundamental flaws in the netcode and in that way will most likely make BIATCH obsolete/integrated with TT.

Well, thanks to 0x90 releasing his new cheat. He's postponed the release of TT even longer. As now, you guys will have to edit your anti-cheat software to pick up his latest cheat as well. sighs

I'm aware that ROF detection is unrelyable I have a lil bit of experience with it working with RR. I thought you guys had per-fected it, my bad.

Can't believe you people would go as low as to stand up for a cheating shit just to jump on the I hate spoony bandwagon.

Go finger your little pussy x90 you mean lady bitch.

Mean lady = c. u. n. t.
