Houston wrote on Fri, 25 June 2010 19:22hey hey

I haven't play renegade in months and months...
I use to play with my "account" Houston but it gives me an error
"Error: Nickname Deleted" (im running windows xp, no firewalls)

If this is fixable i would like to know how, if now, i'll make a new account - but the problem is it keeps login in to "houston" > with gives me an empty list of servers no matter what. How can I dissable the auto-login?

Once it's fixed... Could anyone help me on getting it patched again so that, for example, you can hear the nuclear countdown from 10 to 0 - see on the battlefield who's sending radio commands, etc.

Thanks for all the help,
an anterior renegade gamer Oh sorry i never checked the topic

To disable auto login, You know when your on the menu and it displays your players kills/death etc ratio? well on the left theres a bar, highlight it click on my information and uncheck autologin
