I cheated? Ya whatever. I've been sniping since the Fncall Sniping server days of Renegade. I've had my bad days where I can't match up in the past. I've proven myself countless times that I don't and even my past fraps videos in MtOwn sniping. I've gone up against players who even used cheat name removed against me in sniping and still top them (TilDeth being recent one).

I didn't start fully playing AOW until I made my first AOW clan with Kil271er. And eventually Tunaman joined and was in it for about a year and he helped me over time show the basics of AOW. From there I knew what to do and eventually was able to hold my own. Sure I can't compete with people like KiLL and Simpee but I'm good enough to match a decent AOW game.

It's funny how rumors go around. I don't even play anywhere else but my own server, Atomix, just to avoid the stupidity and the low IQ of half the people in this game. I don't play in Jelly, N00bstories, n00bless, any of those servers but my own and still get trash talked about my skill when the people who do bash me never even once played against me. I played in 1337-Snipe for the first time ever a few weeks ago and got forced-rr'd out. So I went to download it just to show them up and I still played the same. So you and your cheat accusations can go fuck each other. And today, I played in St0rm for the first time ever to see what it's like and I got 128 kills and 24 deaths from sniping.

All I do is snipe, and Altzan can say the same for me when he sees me play. I do nothing but snipe unless the player count is low. I probably can consider myself an overall good player that knows how to play in and out, but a hell of a sniper to be honest.

And just so I won't get shitted on for other things, I don't even use skins or different huds or a different crosshair. My renegade is completely pure with scripts. And always has been. I never used a skin in my life and don't plan on using one today.

You people always use that logic, oh he sucked back then, but he owns now. Ever thought of maybe the person gets adjusted to the game overtime and gets good at it? A lot of people most certainly don't because all they do is bring up past skill of a player and used that to attack the person. Some people get good, some people don't. Get used to it in any game.
