thanks for rephrasing what i said several times already, that most other clanwars players (whiskey probably being the only notable exception besides me) have no grasp of leadership. and again, here come the excuses... "i wasn't trying". if you weren't trying to win and don't win because of it i'm not sure on what basis you call yourself a good player, or in this case, a good leader. do you think you or simpee could have led renforums to the comm match success it's had, given the fact that most of its players hadn't even played comm wars before at all?

Quote:simpee had more succes than u in smaller scale games, and im sure he could atleast match your impact on the game in bigger games if he got in some of em and actually tried... again, the excuses come thick and fast. perhaps you missed him saying he leaves games if his team sucks (meanwhile i'm there galvanising my team into doing the right strategy and -gosh-winning), perhaps you missed him saying the only time a "clanwars pro" can really "shine" is on a flying map (what the fuck, lol... always trust simpee to say something really dense)

Quote:and if ur the better tactician/leader, why do u not have as much succes in smaller games, sure enough it doesn't pay of in bigger games alone?

my results in small games were actually very comparable to simpee's, especially given the fact that nobody ever suspected me of cheating or rulebreaking of any kind (nobody besides simpee and clearshot, who were caught spouting the most deranged lies in the process). and since clanwars aren't played anymore and all we have to look at is public servers and comm matches, why do you keep ignoring the topic at hand (i.e. the games that are actually played) and changing the subject to clanwars that aren't played anymore? i really can't imagine why it bothers you so much to see the obvious fact that i smoke simpee in big games. and it really obviously bothers you, you're going so far out of your way to make excuses for that failure that you don't even seem to have noticed his own excuses for it.
