Glad you guys enjoyed my level (Jerad didn't make any of it, lol). Yeah, the naming is confusing. I had originally intended for it to have much more exploration, and be single player only- hence the "Metroid" name. But, it just evolved into a co-operative multiplayer game, and ended up with what you play now. The name isn't very important. Also, you missed two secret areas. Just so you know, you can also climb down that cable to the room with electrified water near the end as well.
