
Subject: EA-Cheaters.co.uk up and running!
Posted by Sk8rRIMuk on Sat, 06 Sep 2003 01:32:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Darkeye one thing, why the hell you put forums in a frame, taht totally screws up the autofit tables...

Those menus could be intergrated in to the forum system as a all in one...

<http://www.renevo.com> is a good example of it in action.

Its kool of you to go get a domain and set up a site , I say put some PHP coding in to make it more easily viewed and you have a totally rocking site..

I like the idea and current stuff aswell though .

(PHP is sugested becuase site is based round a PHP encoded forum)
