@Shai, as I don't agree "fully" with ACK's statement regarding his skins, as it was a bit too extreme, comment and critique on his work was probably something he was going for. It's the same thing with any form of art: you post it on a forum or some type of public place, it's going to get critiqued, whether it be good or bad.

In this case, the skin only suits people from a particular group. To me, it's ugly. But, you can tell he put some work on this, to that I give him credit.
