Fair enough. So, tell me: Are you one of the people who feels that Jarhead should stop being heavy-handed in the server? If so, do you intend on supporting the server he moderates, so that your voice holds weight? Do you play there? Do you pay to maintain it? Do you play without paying to help maintain it?

I'm not quite sure why you care about him. If you want him to stop being heavy-handed, but you don't support the server (or the people who run it), why should anyone care about what you think?

If you play there, but your only contribution is to come bash Jarhead, why should anyone care about what you think?

If you pay to maintain the server, I'd imagine some people would take your complaints seriously.

Even if none of the above matters or applies, I'm still fascinated that MUDKIPS can say "It's a fucking game" and complain about Jarhead, while simultaneously being just as much of an asshole about said game. I getting a fundamental disconnect here. Why does any of this matter? None of you are forced to play on NS. Most of you complaining have made it clear that you don't play there, or that you won't go back.

This sounds like the bitching that was posted on this forum for years, regarding the FUD Clan and their FUD Online server. What difference does it really make?
