did you ever see that episode of That 70s Show when Red has a near-death experience and decides to be nice to people? at the end he gets tired of it and basically tells them all to fuck off and kiss his ass

maybe that's what ACK did, but far more drawn out that, or maybe pretending to be nice made him tremble with trollish laughter when people thought, for whatever reason, that he truly was nice

The thing about this though is, around the time of him being nice he did a lot of other things.

Such as taking a girls name on the N00bstories IRC, here, and Bluehell forums. He would tell everyone he was female, and demanded to be talked to as one. He would also post pics of his legs when he dressed as a girl on the N00bstories IRC.

Seems a bit much for a simple troll, or a an experience such as that. (especially the dressing up as a girl to post pics)
