It isn't 'me'.

Although I have likely caused this.

My PC is was pretty unsecure in retrospect. I have had fileZilla running on my PC and teamviewer running open to quite a few people. I suspect it was one of the people I have shared my credentials with, or they shared it with someone else.

I'm pretty embarrassed, and quite honestly it makes little difference really whether it was me in those videos or not. If I am the person who was responsible (albeit through stupidity rather than malevolence) for a leak, then every cheater who has access to a TT cheat is pretty much down to me. Not a legacy I would be fond of.

I checked my fileZilla logs and they have been cleared.

I've turned it all off now, but I suspect the damage has been done. It looks like this occurred while I was actually at work, and not even home.

Ani wrote on Mon, 30 July 2012 18:38Has it been confirmed this is indeed reborn? Would explain why he's been playing over at my server a lot recently..

No, it's not 'me'.

Ani wrote on Tue, 31 July 2012 00:02I'm the one who called it (that redude/reborn was the guy behind the new radar TT hack) and made the people started looking into these things because I noticed that on the YouTube profile page where "0x91" shows off the functionality of the hack, it says the creator is 41 years old and lives in the United Kingdom. Which matches up perfectly with whom reborn is. The dumbass was so clever he forgot to fake his Google/YouTube account stats, lmao.

The screenshot that showed off the functionality was taken in Kamuix - which is hosted in Europe and the 0x91 guy was getting 58 ping - definitely a European then.

Logs also show that reborn was either the one taking the screenshots in the server at the exact same time or he was just in the wrong place at the wrong time.. lol

Reborn also used to be permanently banned from that cheat site which now is mysteriously unbanned....

It all adds up and quite frankly i'm sad to see reborn going down this route, everyone knows he was a cool guy and dedicated a lot of his time in Renegade, obviously something made him snap to dislike it/us in such a way.

I'm 30, not 41. However, my age and location is public knowledge anyway...

Ani wrote on Tue, 31 July 2012 00:06 It makes a lot of sense because when (i'm assuming this now) reborn got banned off Jelly he started playing in my server a lot.

He was even on teamspeak and mentioned how there was this new guy called 0x91 making a radar hack for TT and reborn was basically praising the guy saying "God I wonder what else is possible if he managed to hook into it" - go figure.

This just goes to show you anyone can snap at any second..

Yes I have been playing in your server, I like it. I have not been banned in Jelly (although I guess I might be now?).

As the for TS conversation, I regularly check those forums. So do quite a few people here... I was not praising the guy, I feared what else they could do.

Not a simple case of my goldfish/brother/cat did it. However, I think my own complacency has caused this.

Now THAT is the kind of thing that usually indicates someone is guilty as fuck.

Not to mention scary that he has the source to scripts4.0 and using them in this manner. What else has he done?

'I' haven't done anything, although I accept that this is likely caused by myself.

If there has been a leak and it is caused by me, then there's quite a lot they could do I guess.

Ani wrote on Tue, 31 July 2012 08:17 Also, something I have to point out; reborn said (on teamspeak) before that if someone has the source code to 4.0 they could modify it to the point where if the server tries to perform a sshot function on the client the client would actually end up uploading a virus...

I hope this isn't true. I also wonder what the impact on Renegade will be considering reborn has the source code to TT...

EvilWhiteDragon wrote on Tue, 31 July 2012 05:27

Since the upload is just a HTTP upload send to a specified server, this could be done by anyone with a bit of HTML knowledge. Therefore it is recommended that the webserver performs proper input checking. This falls outside of the scope of the TT team.

If I know the location of your uploadscript, which can be easily found when ingame, then I can just create a simple HTML page with an upload form and upload it to that script. Probably takes me less than 10 minutes start to finish. And I'm not even a half decent coder.

Yes, I said it would be possible, there is likely lots more that would be possible. Uploading a virus seemed pretty bad to me, and I mentioned it because RenCorner takes screenshots automatically.

In summary, I do care if people think it was me or not in those videos, because I wouldn't like to think that people believed that's who I am.

However, it is of little comfort whether or not this is accepted/understood/believed to myself, as I fear I have caused the damage anyway, and it's not something that I am proud of.

If I have caused a leak, which it seems very evident that I have, then I probably deserve the shit I am getting for my own stupidity.
