TheatrrapSir PhoenixxNo, it's not a grenade launcher...

<http://kalashnikov.guns.ru/models/ka118.html> :rolleyes:

Did you go to my link, that is truely a grenade launcher. Listed as one. Those little 356 shells cannot hold enough explosives to be a grenade and grenades wouldnt come in clips like that. You dont know what you are talking about. Go to my link and there you will see what a real grenade launcher is, it was on the same site as your ak. Till you see a real launcher shut up.

Hello, dumbass. Hypocritical retard. Damn, I mean, how dumb can you get?

Yes I did go to your link, that's a grenade launcher, and so is the one that Nodbugger made on his ak. You apparently didn't go to the link I posted, that grenade launcher IS LISTED AS A GRENADE LAUNCHER, you fucking moron. OMG, you've amazed me again, I didn't think you could get any dumber... You have no clue what you're talking about, there is no specified amount of explosives needed in a projectile to make it a grenade, you don't know how much of that bullet is the explosive projectile, and how much of it is the propellent. LOL, so grenades wouldn't come in magazines like that? Some one should go tell HK that, because they aren't as 'educated' as you... (the HK OICW's (<http://world.guns.ru/assault/as40-e.htm>) main feature is it's integrated Grenade launcher, which fires 20mm grenades, that are LOADED IN IT BY MAGAZINES. (btw, they're called 'magazines', not 'clips'.))

LOL... You come in here pretending like you're smart, but you don't even try to look anything up, or at least act like you know what you're talking about.
