can you not read? and it wasn't a 2v1 to begin with, 2v2, i already said, anyways: neither of our teammates were doing jackshit, my 'teammate' certainly didn't stop you from getting off 400, then u buy a flamer and i steal it, tough shit, the game ended right there, but u can take these other people in the server in account if u want, but they did nothing whatsoever that influenced the game (how can they have, when they actually did nothing other than roll in your base while u got 1 building left, lol?) it even shows how much of a difference one move (stealing flamer) can have on a 2v2... pretty sure it would have a bigger impact on a 1v1

and again: i never posted this screenshot to boast about anything, i was trying to make a point that 1v1's are generally gay and alot of times luck/spawns decides who wins the games
