So for some ungodly reason I found myself reading through an old topic made in 2011, during which I noticed several users that I had long since forgotten about.

Out of curiosity I found myself clicking on their names and seeing what their final post was, 2 of which happened to be on the same RenegadeX topic right off the bat, and a lot of others were on similar RenegadeX topics.

So this got me thinking; wouldn't it be cool if there was some statics for this?

It seems interesting to see how many topics had 2 or more people make their final posts on these forums...

Then again maybe I'm just a bit bored at work lol.
