Should I move the Marquee thing to the right of the screen, and the navigation, to the left, BTW I am updating my site as I type, Just the main section, nothing beyond the sections you can get to from the home page.
(I don't like to change everything at once, and it turns out, that wasn't what you wanted it to be like.) Do you think, I should completly make a new Navigation Bar? Or like a button for each of them?
