When I first started at these forums it was a massive 2.4 MB but with some coperation from the members I did some testing and reduced the framerate, physical size and actual size...

Recently I had two people say that it was causeing them problems where as many before said it was now OK...

Just wanted to get the opinons of the community so I can decide wether to yet again scale it down, remove it or keep it the way it is?

Thank you in advance.

EDIT: The two people were C4 Miner & Marsh as I recall.
