I took a couple lines out of my sig... the Renegade stats image really made it longer.

There's a new version of phpBB coming out in a couple weeks or months that includes hundreds of new features, including the option to not view other people's signatures. I'm like, reluctant to install it because I did a lot of custom modifications to the base code of phpBB to make it look like our old UBB boards, but we'll figure that out once it's released.
