Big deal - If I find something out I like to tell people so they can do it. The whole mod community relies on people finding things out as we were provided with little information about using the modding tools in the first place.

Sure it took you time to figure out what works best but I bet a lot of other people including me have provided information that took us a long time to figure out.

If I had the same attitude, do you think renhelp.co.uk would even exist?
