All BR needs to work is to be able to read the renlog file of the server. So if you can mount the drive/directory of the the remote computer, you can have BR on one computer and the FDS on another. However, I think that BR checks to see if you have the FDS installed when you install, so Im not sure how you would get around that...I suggest posting on the BR section of the renevo forums (http//www.renevo.com) and Dante will have a better suggestion.
