First of all , the map itself (C&C Airbase v1.0) is finished, but there is a major bug that causes it to crash upon loading

I'm pretty sure that the presets are completely screwed up, and as a last resort, I'm going to try and recreate all the temporary presets I added. If it works, I'll be able to release the map within a few days, if it doesn't, I'm just going to trash it and release the old beta.

EDIT: ARGGHH   why do all the problems end up being the last ones on my list of problems, I'm now almost positive that it is in fact a corrupted texture that is causing the map to crash, the good news is that the map is saved , but I'm going to have to test all the textures and find the corrupted one. If everything goes right though, I'll be able to release it tommorow.
