It's a great mod, lets face it Vloktboky really did his homework with this one. The Black-cell servers have run the drop weapons for a while, just while a few of the glitches were ironed out and it's turned out great i think. Thoroughly enjoyable.

Now the drop weapons are unpridictable and make some kills easier yes, but it makes the games fresher, you never know if that basic eng has a ramjet rifle under his sleeve and whether that sydney has more than just a pic.....it can sway the tide of battle, i agree, but that is what makes it so appealing.
