ACK: Would this be to include in the mod or in future maps? Please realize I know very little about the RenAlert mod. You can post here or e-mail me. (TeaAddict4Life@hotmail.com)

Deafwasp: It sounds good to use select songs from the Tiberian Sun soundtrack. I must admit, I use that soundtrack for inspiration with finding new ideas.
I would be interested in doing music for your mod, but it seems you've failed to mention something. (I did my homework on this one a bit)
The guy going by the alias Wolfie (Michal Bartnikowski) seems to already be working on music. I would also assume he's an 'official part of the team' since he has a high enough status in the cnc-source forums to be able to pin messages. Musicians in general HATE to have others working on the same project without knowing.
In fact, I don't know if I want to work on the project because Wolfie might feel I'm tramping on his territory, let alone the other way around. I don't mean to sound hostile, but you can't ask 2 people to do the same one-man job.
You can e-mail me when you find a solution to this one (if you do). I may post around on cnc source forums anyway.
