npsmith82Anyone know where i can get the pure setup files for IE6 that i can resume? Without having to download that 300KB web installation file, and waiting for it to update itself.

I love the idea of things like this, but it's crap for people with slow/bad connections.

Spent 40$ a month for a nice connection, with 40$ you will probably get 512/128kbit AT LEAST

And, nope im sorry dude, i dont know where to get that :'(if its around that is
