Ah i know the problem now. I got a e-mail from the server that says :

Hi HI....

bllaaabllaaabllaaa
and don't use the site as a place to put your files that is not in use in the website. bllaaabllaablaaa bye bye.

I just uploaded the files. Not the index.HTML. so they thought i putted files there without using the website. My website was on another server and the file on another. so i will put the index.HTML in the both server so they don't think im using the there server for just files. BTW its 24 hours shutted down.

and i have tested the link. Just wanted to be shure if it worked.
