Quote:no offense, but i just dont like R&B Rap which i assume is what you like, because i see it as mindless garbage that does nothing but encourage women beating, "gangsta" life style aka shooting cops, murdering people all that shit. If it was just some of the beats i might stand it a bit but its not its people talking fast, cursing constantly hehe.

yeah, I think so to. but uhhmm... killing people/murdering people is also in metal. alot though... songs like "killing on adrenaline" and such. but it's ok, I mean, in death metal songs they sing about that to. but you can't hear what they sing. because of all the screaming . but I checked a cannibal corpse lyrics.

Like this: <http://www.darklyrics.com/lyrics/cannibalcorpse/tombofthemutilated.html#1>

I think it's quite sick though. but you can't hear it in the song .

Metallica is different, iron maiden to. and alot more bands. they don't use such lyrics. Metallica often writes songs about war, how bad war is and such. like their song "One". and master of puppets.

Iron maiden has that too. songs like "afraid to shoot strangers". and such.

Quote:Yea. If mainstream rap had a bit deeper meanings, I might have a chance of liking it. It's possible and has been done before. Rage Against the Machine anyone? I loved them and still do.

And I always find the background beats annoying...RATM takes care of that for me too

Rage against the machine is ok. I have a few songs of them. I don't like rap and r&b because the background music is always the same. that annoying background sounds keeps playing again and again. But rap and r&b is based on lyrics. r&b fans only listen to the lyrics, and the ritm of the back ground beating.

well, again. there are alot of people who dislike metal. and that's fine. I don't like r&b and such. it's no big deal I think. But somehow other people have problems with the fact that I like metal. then they say, "hey. fuck you, you like metal, you asshole!". and crap like that. and that's very very stupid. That's how alot of fights start with. Just because they like different music. it's kinda, uhhh... "sad but true"
