CrimsonI already posted this, but:

THIS chart derived directly from the IRS figures shows who pays the most taxes.

I, too, have felt a lighter load, but now that I'm a contractor (1099 employee), I have to actually save money from my checks and deposit them by hand with the IRS... believe me, it's going to be painful.

Quicken has some nice software to help you out with that.

My sister-in-law has to do the same thing. If you didn't already know that I will try and find what programs she uses.
