Don't worry - the test is pretty straight-forward. Essentially, it does not test how good you are at English or Math as much as it tests how well you know the SAT.

I took it cold last October just to see how much I'll need to prep when I go for my real final score - I got a 1540 (800 math, 740 verbal). I'm going to take it again in October and will shoot for a 1600 - maybe this time I'll go get a prep book or something...
