ScrumfyUmbral_DelaFlareAs I said before, please explain how she can remotely control Renegade servers, and I'll gladly uninstall Renguard.

They have the ability to "globally ban" people from every server connected to the RG network, as well as the ability to send messages to each, and probably to get the detailed game info from each. I don't even see why a master server is needed, RG is supposed to catch everyone anyway...It must be another control thing.

And you have the ability to globally make an ass of yourself, post senseless drivel and irritate a lot of people.

So... What makes anyone want to trust you, or believe what you say, unless they're already a half-wit clown looking for any reason to cry wolf?

Yeah, it's "okay" to believe you... But it's not "okay" to believe Crimson, because she obviously didn't earn our trust, but you "did" somehow...
