j_ball430But it is also treason in which you voice your opinion. Once you start to attack the very source that supports these forums, it becomes treason. The United States government isn't going to sit quietly while some terrorists sit inside the US making war against its people. I didn't say that my tactics ended with asking you to leave. I have more but which are ones I am not going to discuss with you.

You may be correct there, but this is not the USA, and I am not a terrorist. These forums and the country can hardly be compared, especially since I don't seek to destroy the forums...Perhaps you could all go try and hurt the script kiddies with your words, the people actually trying to take this place down. By the way, begging Crimson to ban me isn't really a valid tactic.
