I like StarGate much better than StarTrek or StarWars. It has action in it just about every episode and a very nice story plot. The latest StarTrek is kind of boring, but the next new episode should be fairly good. The ship was under attack and badly damaged by the Xindi.(Spelling) TePal (Spelling again) was in control of the ship while Captain Archer was under water on some planet ,if I remember correctly, trying to negotiate with the Xindi not to destroy Enterprise or Earth. And it kinda ended like that.

OT: Does anyone know what StarGate Atlantis is supposed to be about? I know nothing about it, but I think Atlantis is under Antarctica underneath where they found the second gate, and the weapon to destroy the attacking army of Anubis. I think Atlantis is supposed to be the lost city of the Ancients because what they found at Antarctica was only an outpost as they say.

NOTE: If I am wrong correct me please!
