You missed the point entirely. Congratulations.

I wasn't poking at the fact that he said he'd "redo it." I'm poking at the fact that he makes half-assed work and tells people that it's great and perfect.

Then turns around and says it's bad, not even a day later.

Isn't he supposed to be working on that Fisting of Ass thing? I can't see it getting done any faster if he's busy doing things for other people.
