Reguard doesnt force people to use it....firstly if a server you are a regular in, uses renguard but you no longer wish to join it or d/load renguard to play there....that makes me somewhat suspicious and says "he's hiding something"

But to cover that up you say the application is bullshit, it hurts my cdrom, my platform doesnt like it, It's a trojan horse that feeds my bank account number back to BHS in a massive BHS plot to rob the renegade community and take over the world. :rolleyes:

If you download it and use it and dont like it: give constructive feedback to them.....suggestions on what changes you feel would improve renguards potential (client side - they cant do anything about server side issues, sometimes it maybe a poor connection that causes lag via the host...not renguard)

If you havent used it or dont wish to use it, you have no right to say anything about it....like it's bullshit....how the hell could you possibly know to judge it....better example you see a girl at a bar and say "she's crap in bed" when you have never even slept with her.....it's pretty stupid to make that assumption, it just makes you look like an asshole
