renx you are right. THe other guy was right too. Running away is defeined by running AWAY from the fight with a full pouch of ammo. Takin cover however or retreating is a different matter. You are not RUNNING, you are simply seeking a way to kill your pusuer.

A lightly armored vehilce does not waste your ammo- you are significantly damaging it because a lightly armored vehicle will die in 7 or less quixck shot(using a sniper rifle of course). After the vehicle exploded, you have a good chance of killing the pilot.
