I agree with Blazer... why would you want the vehicle to spawn near your location? The vehicle that spawns should spawn in the exact same designated place every single time.

Also there should just be a delay timer. If anyone on a team purchases a vehicle from the !buy command, no one on that team can buy another vehicle for 15 seconds or something (same as the delay in the wf/airstrip).

If the vehicle spawns in a designated place and it kills you, well that's your fault, if you stand on the red circle on the airstrip or inside the garage of the wf you get killed when a vehicle is produced. Same thing..
