Quote:My facts are straight; when you attack msgtpain you attack the pits and all its members. Yes we do believe in loyalty and friendship.

Okay, so when he tells people he's removing it and "fix your fucking program," as if it's my fault that it doesn't work, I guess with your logic that would be an attack on all of BHS?

It was between msgtpain and myself, not you.

Quote:If you are not in the tech support for BHS, then stay the hell away from helping people, disconnecting and reconnecting servers and pretending to be the know it all.

There is no "Tech support," we all do our part to help this community in whatever way we can. If you can't accept that, shut the fuck up or find something else to whine about.

Quote:This is not about you; it is about your involvement in RG. I take no pleasure in pointing out your behavior however that is what and who you are. Either live with it and accept it, or change your ways.

You haven't got any idea of who I am or what I am. Once again, take your "I'm holier than thou" garbage and find something better to do than whine.
