Well, I been living in New York City for 4 years now and its been some of the best years of my life 9-13 . I think the best year was this one (7th,) though, cause I found out what fun girls are weee. Anyways nobody needs to know that... I'm moving to PA over the summer so I decided to start working on something I can hang on my room in my new house...

<http://www.n00bstories.com/image.fetch.php?id=1023139959> (still a draft- needs way more work...I specially gotta rewrite "lyfe" cause the letters suck balls.)

As you can see I wrote as many girls as I could remember their names in the crystler building, I'm planning to get this signed by all my friends, the girls could sign in the crystler building and my friends could sign all over the rest of the paper.

1. I'm not a wigger and don't classify myself as one.
  2. If you think I'm a wigger go to the "post your picture" topic... I'm definatly not white so don;t bash on me for my style of art .
  3. I blurred out my handwriting to avoid stupid comments.
  4. If it really sucks just tell me I need opinions, I don't one my friends to know bout this untill I take it out on the last day of school so I can't really ask them.

Hmm.. you seem to be using wild style.. maybe try industrial style.. would suit this piece a bit better.

I don't like the word under word under word.. Maybe try put 2 words next to each other and when you go on to the next line start the writing more over to the right. so you indent more and more every line you make.

Colours i think a blue/white/grey/silver with small thin dark gray outlines.

Are you using Pens are Cans?

I'm using pens and markers, I want to make this so my friends will sign it, so cans wouldn't be good for this since I ain't taking a brick wall or a table to school. This is just a draft, tomorrow ill try doing everything smaller and draw scenes of my beloved school and maybe my building. I'm also keeping the crystler building since it gives it a nice downtown feel. I'll probably scan a new piece in about two days since I have little time to do this stuff right now, since my number one priority right now (apart from school, just cause my school's in Queensbridge doesn't mean I don't want to go somewhere in life. I don't wear my pants below my asscheeks...I actualy hate most people that do, but i do wear long t's and i got a earring and a silver chain lol) is hanging out with my friends since I'm moving.

And I'm moving to the lihigh (I think that's the correct spelling,) around the Easton/Bethlehem/Nazareth area) I was up there this weekend and I think it's gonna be cool up there, but nothing's like NYC. Once you get to know people down here, you kinda get attached to them. The good thing is that up in PA I won't lose any friends to a knife or gun...

Bah.. i don't graffiti no more... a $22,000 fine kinda changes your mind quite quickly.

I sometimes still do at skateparks where its legal to, but other than that not really anymore.

You can actually spray onto a white canvas and unstrap it off a wall or sheet of card and take it anywhere like in your bag or something.. Not that hard.

z310, every graffed before?

Seems you have the potential to be a graff artist if you choose to.

About the Stopping PS buisness.. I just feel like my skills are slipping and so i want to stop before my works begins to look too dodgy.

Like you take a look at my latest work:

You can see that looking at my previous work, i am slipping.

Im still open to helping people learn PS more in depth and help them with anything art/media related.

I believe art is a projection of ourselves in different moods and if you let it go to waste then whats the point waking up in the mornings?

Think about it.. If you have a skill thats meant to be shown why let it go to waste?

lol i saw that a knew aprime didnt make that lol.... i dont know why you are slipping but you are soo atistic i saw your PS work, your photographs, and now i know you used to be a graphitti artist it seems if it has to do with art you are good at it. keep at PS maybe you will start going back to even better than b4... .... so artistic ...
