What's so haxz0rs about it? It's just a good mouse and mousepad. It's like buying a new keyboard and calling it the spamwriter because you feel like a spammer because you can type fast without sticky keys.

Beyond that, both the mouse and the mousepad look pretty nice, though.

That is pretti cool mouse, but I don't think that it would be very comfortable for me.

Off topic: What do you people think of my new avantar? cool huh?

LMAO! That's hilarious. I'm surprised they didn't put "aimbot" in l33tspeak, however the hell you do it.

That mouse looks nice but it doesn't look to comfortable, as terminator, but I guess that's just because I personally don't grip my mouse so tightly.

Ok if people can call that an aimbot its about time for me to release my new prototype:

The Mouse Burn Shield.

Its a circle of cardboard about the size of a plate.
With a mouse shaped hole cut in the middle.

You put it over your mouse so that you don't get "mouse burns" on the palm of your hand from moving the mouse around too much.

:rolleyes:

Because it's actually called "The Aimbot." He didn't just make the topic because he thinks better mousepads make you aim better...

I don't have a beef with the topic, I just think the name aimbot should be reserved for something truly revolutionary, not just nice equipment.

True, but that's about it. The mousepad itself isn't nicely decorated with n00bs shouting OMG HAXX0RZ or something.
