sure, here it comes:

Het station of de netwerkverbinding waarnaar de snelkoppeling RenX.lnk verwijst, is niet beschikbaar. Controleer of de schijf is geplaatst of de netwerkverbinding beschikbaar is en probeer het opnieuw.

And its really annoying...

Have you tried to run it from it's install directory?

What that means is that your shortcut is pointed to an invalid path. .lnk (LNK) files are windows shortcuts.
Check the properties of the shortcut to ensure that they are correct.

The default path is C:\gmax\gamepacks\westwood\renx\renx.exe or something quite close to that. Copy the RenX program and go to your desktop, paste a "shortcut" to it. Voila, there's the link to RenX. If that doesn't answer your question, could you clearify it a little more

Sorry to prove your wrong.. but there is no RenX.exe...

The Link must be:

C:\Programme\gmax\gmax.exe -a C:\Programme\gmax\gamepacks\WestWood\RenX\splash.bmp -i gamepacks\WestWood\RenX\gmax.ini -p gamepacks\WestWood\RenX\plugin.ini

(YES! The WHOLE line)

You must just adjust the path to the path wehre you ahve isntalled RenX/Gmax into and you should be fine

I couldn't remember if it was an exe or not, all I remember it is the one with the RenX logo icon on it.

Ok, problem solved, sorta. Youll probably think im the biggest noob ever to walk this earth, but that aside. I have downloaded the gmax installer and installed it and the shortcut is now working perfect. Now, there is only the small registering issue. I have submitted the form at the registration site of gmax, and i received an email with the code, but when i start gmax, it doesnt ask for it. It says that i have to register and then press continue but i have registered it, and when i press continue, it says i havent registered etc etc. Please help... im getting desperate

Thank God for the internet. I solved the problem with the f'd-up registration. On the Turbosquid forum, there is a topic about this, and it has a legal way to by-pass this problem. So, gmax is now running perfectly, if not, well, ill post some more things. Let me just hope the answer isnt to actually download the program :oops:
