Had it for a while.. The handwriting thing to me is the only coolest update. The test of the "wink" and "nudge" feature are SOO anoying that i disabled them. But i like the new layout of it and also the new popup thing when users sign in.

Basicly to sum it up, i wouldn't of minded to stick with the old one just give it security patches.

Also disable your text logging, it has an error in this beta so prevent error message just disable it, its your best bet.

Score of this beta: 7/10

Sticking with old version an its feature: 9/10

I think you only have the handwriting feature if you have Office XP or 2003. At least that's what it appears. I have Office 2003, and I have handwriting, but my friend's don't, and they don't have handwriting either.

only feature i liked here was that the buddy list is now able to remove the tool bar at the top.. like the message windows..

can u change the color on the buddy list to match the message windows?

Use Trillian. Trillian is much better and you only need one client running for multiple messengers.

It saves memory and disk space.

loser99um who the fudge is on MSN?!?!?!?!? Besides like people from canada

Me, my friends, my clan, my old clan, my family and a load of other people I know.

And just for clarity, I'm from Shropshire in England.

MSN > AOL/Yahoo

The beta is a real nice thing.

its great for just jumpin online on all your messangers..

but if u want to do anything good like send files/web cam..

they have to have trillain as well.. cause trillian is so funkin buggy that nothin works on it lol

MSN sucks, my internet security thinks it's a virus that want's to get online so it blocks it in a very strange way.

AIM works fine even tho the smillies are... gay.

Trillian works fine when sending files and that is all I need. There is nothing else needed in a messenger.

htf.. i never get it to work.. i just checked and i have to most updated version..

it always ran buggy for me.. i dunno maybe its the skins..

what skin u use?

and u send files to ppl on aim/msn?

i overall prefer msn cause its more pro lookin..

u can use your own pix for the buddy pic

u can customize the background of each window with your own pic web cam kicks ass.. never really used the mic tho u can invite ppl into one conversion.. and not make a chat room the "your info" page is much better and i can make the windows transperant.. "the nvidia options"

it didnt work with aim/yahoo last time i checked put it this way tho.. i do use trillian INSTEAD of aim when i need to be on aim.. aim is a joke imo.. they dropped the ball long time ago
