I played this person in a one on one clan war game. The game was 500 only sniper. This person was ir0nsn1pe. We started playing and the score was 358 (me) to 78 (ir0nsn1pe) and then he started talking about his lag he was having. (This was 20 min into the game) Then he doesnt come out of his base for about 2 min. He finally comes out and all of a sudden starts getting really good shots on me. Even really good headshots. Then i am still winning at a score of 693 to 654. 2 min are left in the game and what does he do? HE STARTS SHOOTING MY HARVESTER! He shoots my harvester until his score was higher than mine then he stopped. I told him to stop getting free harvester points and shot his harvester until my score was above his. (it ended up being around 701 to 700) I was in the lead so it was a FAIR game again and he does it again. SHOOT MY HARVESTER. So its the end of the game with 1 min left and he is trying to shoot my harvester. And he is still getting really good headshots. Supposedly with all the lag he is having. I realize however that since Renguard does not protect the client version of FDS that he must have had an aimbot, bighead, or something up his sleeve. So i kick him and the game ends. n00bs.

Wow thats n00by.

If I were you, I'd have gotten a Raveshaw and shoot his harvester. Its only fair if he's gonna play dirty.

Plus points dont matter anyway. In a 1v1, its the number of kills that matter.
