I made this video just for fun. Some guy was cheating it up in Ren Evo so I just spectated him and turned on Fraps. Unfortunately I missed right when he joined on dust and would kill the entire enemy team in the first few seconds. None the less lots of nothing but headshot, Speed hack, 180 degree turning action.

What I find funny is that he was completely oblivious to the fact that everybody was spectating.

Isnt it funny, how with all the hacks he had available to him... He still gets owned. And the fact that he was cheating multiplies the owned factor by about ~57374

That's why I slow mowed the end. He couldn't knife someone with a speed hack. He got KNIFED while using every cheat available.

You should use the built in Source recorder, 100x better than Fraps.

I got some recordings of that cheater. Recorded him twice of Dust when he went nuts and then one on Train where he got owned. Got no where to host them though.

Rebojesus plays all the time on the server. Whats up with that?

This was not Robo Jesus. The cheaters name was [3LD]BlackJesus. Then later on during a map change he changed his name to RoboJesus to try to get him in trouble. However RoboJesus was still there so we had two RoboJesus on one server. You could tell which one was the real one because he was usually dead. I forgot I was gonna post this in the very first post because I didn't want any undue animosity towards RoboJesus.

Don't recognise the game, and I've only got 20% into it (bored of waiting, I wanted to see!) and it's obvious... Is this the best punishment that can be given or can this fool be banned?

Mind you everyone knows about it so I guess it's doubtful he'll get away with it now...

Btw is the music supposed to have an echo on? My soundcard was set to 'Auditorium' yesterday and it sounds the same, even though the effects are off..

It doesn't echo on mine. Also he was banned. Eventually got someone on who came and banned him, but before that we got some video and I decided to put it together and make a movie.
