Using IE, Opera and Firefox, I cannot view any file named "banner.xxx" (any extension). So far I've only noticed it with image files and flash files. Any ideas?

Do you get an error? Or does it just not do anything when you try to open/view it?

Just a blank space. As if the file does not exist. No error.

I have many problems with Internet Explorer. I can't view those banner things either. I get errors on some sites about "active X files". it says I cannot view the site . It's really annoying now...

Nevermind, it was Norton's Ad-Blocking.
