I come to ask two things, one, you download a file. Two, you tell me about how fast it downloaded.

If you like that M9 Bayonet and you play CS: S you'll probably download it anyways, it's a knife model replacement.

The speed must have been good for me. As soo as I clicked "Save," it was already on my desktop. The file is only 272KB, so the burst speed could have easily covered that.

With Firefox, it finished right after I clicked save. With Internet Explorer, it went very slow.
