w00t: http://www.multiplayermaps.net/pafiledb.ph...ion=file&id=233

I redone the UberMapPack, this is 100% the final version lol.
This is perfect for anyone with "moderately slow" internet, just download this one package and your 246 maps richer and just back it up on a CDR or something

I dont think i missed a map but could be wrong, if so: sorry you'll have to download it outside the package somewhere then, no way in hell and back i gonna repack it all again just to add one more map LOL

I'm still curious if you got permission from any of the authors since you never responded about it.

That sounds about right. I had over 5 gigs when I was at the point of wanting every single map that was made available. Then I cleaned out my data folder.

Mine too!!

Zunnie has all the text files with all the maps in it. So nobody can really compain. If you were able to download the map from somewhere with the text files then how can they complain?

I know you wouldn't ACK. As I'm sure you don't really care about it anymore.

You don't need permission. If you don't want something used by someone else, don't put it on the internet.

IMO that map is worth redoing the whole pack... It's still the best looking DM map ever.

Ive got Halo for the PC, UT Demo, UT '04 Demo, and a Playstation 2 with a few random games.
What would i need with a Deathmatch mode in Renegade?
