^^I love the look, did you make that O_o

I say go with 1asphost and get a .tk. Or .co.nr. Or .biz.ly.

Or use Abyss Web Server and I can lend you a subdomain.

I really haven't had time to work on it, but when I get the time, I will buy a domain.

Huulhaali want to create a website on renegade downloads , so i need lots of spaces if you guys know any website that i can host my own website than plz tell me.

lol. i wouldn't bother with this n00b. All he did with his old one was take use links to downloads on other sites. After awhile he started spamming (did a bad job at it too) my site. Tis annoying.

Screw that, I'm thinking of making hosting.trielite.net

A tiny bit of webspace (250mb) for a ten dollar donation is what I'm planning, but the time lasts as long as I can keep it on, which is until my hard drive dies.

But that isn't for a while, and that is only a plan lol, yeah, but most things last forever, I need to get a new HD soon too D:

Bah, whatever, I'll do it for free. The game downloads don't count towards your 50mb space limit, just link directly from the TriElite download database. Don't hotlink your images or Aircraftkiller will rape you in your sleep. Ok-eh?

ok make one on lycos.com or freewebs.com then go to my.dot.tk then reregister your web name to the one you want i.e. from <http://www.renegade.com/freewebs> to <http://www.renegade.tk> that will sort the name out at least then you can upgrade your site to a professional hoster for a resonable price.

Glyde stop being so egotistic.

And for hosting I would SERIOUSLY recommend invivo host. (I'll find the link later, or you can google it).

Okay, Mr. DJM.

Maybe I WILL take your advice.

Who wants a pretzel?
