What's going on?

I installed RenGuard a few hours ago, sat watching it for ages as it updated, then had a couple of happy games all working perfectly.

Then I'm off to have dinner. Gone for 2 hours at most, when I get back all the servers I had just been playing on are kicking me left, right and center saying "You need RenGuard installed to play on this server"

But it is installed! I see the window pop up with the renegade button on it... What's going on?!

just try later or something, sometimes their servers don't detect that you have it. or restart it a few times and it should work

Your connection to the RenGuard master server probably dropped, just reconnect.
