LOL, that's not the Apache from Renegade!
hehe.

Anyways, mine is the GDI Humvee.
I love its sleek & stylish off road appearance!

GDI Medium tank. Good maneuverability and speed. Also looks fairly nice.

I'd say NOD flamer, small more maneuverability than other vehicles.

but I like NOD's chemical warrior, it can take out a med tank or mammoth if used right.

The Nod Stealth Tank. If you attack any lone vehicle from behind you can probably win, even vs. a mammy if you use it right.

Nod and Ravashaw, Im more of a night person but if you specifically want vehicles then it would have to be GDI's APC. Much smaller and sleeker than nods giving it an advantage on maps such as City. Although it doesnt have much firepower, it works great on light armored vehicles and infantry, also its quick manuverability and turret allow you to leave and enter battles as you wish. The turret is also nice with its 360 degree rotation and it's ability to fire in any direction, allowing the driver to fend itself from pesky aircraft!

It doesn't matter who did it. Thread necromancy is a bad idea- especially when you have nothing to contribute to the original topic. Yes, it is Nod (not NOD), but you're still stupid for reviving a year-old topic just to correct somebody's poor judgement in capitalization. That, and somebody else already pointed out that person's error a year before you did.
