Some have CLAIMED to do it, however, I have no idea if some of these claims are true...

At the start, with the first versions of RG there were some easy ways of bypassing it but now no real proove exists someone still does it. There was on RG-bypass, made by p*nkbter, but 10 minutes after its release it was patched . IMO the worst days spent by p*nk on that lol...

There's not such a list availlable. If it got names on it, it would prolly just draw people towards it, trying to get on it.

Ever been bypassed? Yes. But if they're caught, they don't get away with it anymore.

sigh

Though I am glad you took my suggestion and came here. Posting this wasn't quit what I had in mind.

You know, that is a very stupid question, but since you are new around here, it is all right.
Anyway, it is like Asking for example Gis Team(www.gunbound.net) 1.if their Gameguard(something like Renguard) has ever been bypassed, and 2.if you could get record of

it. What do you think they would say? 1.-yes 2.-no Everyone who makes programs like that would tell you the same thing.
