Ive been trying out skin editing again, then i figured out how to make emitters. I ended up changing everything related to the nod flame weapons into ice weapons. Heres some screenshots.

And the file.

That's actually pretty original, nice work! It looks good too...

I'll grab a copy later, it looks quite cool.

(Does the file include the blue flame tank and flamethrower, or is it just the ice effect?)

It includes the flame tank and flame thrower effects, the skins, the ice marks, and the burning mist ice effect. (as seen in the tree.)

Thats pretty cool

I wish you had made & released it sooner, I could of added it to Snowfight 2005

That was glitchy when i played it with a freind. He was host. It was as if the game was always registering my character as facing north (not sure which exact direction it was) even when he was facing south. So if i did face south and go forwards it would lag me backwards.

I just had the idea for it at about 3 yesterday afternoon and it took me about 4 hours on and off to make.

Just so evry one knows i am updating the pt icons for another release.

I like it, but i dont see how you guys think this is original. There must be 50 topics for the blue emitters.

The flames are not RG verified. Those where the only ones I wanted to use...

If someone could verify them for me however that might be that would be great. I dont have that much time on my hand at thr moment.

So you changed the Flame. I have 2 questions about this. I've DLed it now and will have a look later.

Are the w3d files RG approved?

And what about the Explosion anims? I have had a file (e_master01.dds or similar) which changed the flame too (Tank and Troop), but while using this file I didn't see any Explosions. My flamer had a purple flame and everytime it was blown up it still blew up without any fire animation.

Do your files ONLY change the Flametanks flames?

I have not edited the explosions at all so they still work.

My files changer the skins for flamethrower and flametank, pt icons for both, firing is ice for both, they leave ice marks instead of scorch marks, the flamethrower canister is blue, the flames left by the flame tank and flamethrower is now blue mist.

And if you didnt noticed you asked 3 questions.

I love the flame effect, but I took out the blue skins for the tank and unit. I think it loos better when they come from a red unit.
